PROJECT EXPERIENCE

1) Body fitness Prediction by Using a random forest Classifier (Final year Project)

In this project, We use a random forest classifier algorithm to get an accurate percentage of the Result. GUI is used for the Interface and Python for the back end and the website is created. (Youtube links: <https://youtu.be/fNjVBN-Feb8> ).

2) Bus Pass Management System.

The Bus Pass Management System is a dynamic website created for efficient bus pass management. It simplifies the process of generating bus passes based on user requirements. Admins can input user information and photos, instantly creating new passes. The system allows printing or downloading of passes and includes a search feature for quick access to user details. This project highlights my expertise in frontend technologies (HTML, CSS, JavaScript) and database management, demonstrating my ability to create intuitive interfaces and enhance system efficiency.
